The 2018 Adult Learners’ Week campaign was launched at a Ceremony on Thursday 30 August where inspiring learners and innovative community education programs were recognised with the presentation of the Adult Learners’ Week Awards.

The 2018 Adult Learners’ Week Award winners are:

- Adult Learner of the Year - Jodi Daniels
- Aboriginal Learner of the Year - Donald Bell
- Adult Educator/Mentor of the Year - Kelly Barrett
- Adult Learning Program of the Year - FocusOne Health

2018 Adult Learner of the Year, Jodi Daniels, was acknowledged for her persistence with learning despite challenging circumstances. Jodi began the Introduction to Women’s Studies program at Pooraka Farm Community Centre with the ultimate goal of entering the nursing field. The supportive community-based learning environment provided Jodi with the safe space she needed to build her confidence. Jodi is now enrolled in a Diploma of Nursing in addition to an online Certificate IV in Men’s Health. Jodi is also employed full-time as Salisbury Heights Primary School’s school support officer. Jodi has found her purpose through education and transformed her life.

Congratulations Jodi.
