

Wall Crossword Game Tiles Installation & Care

Thanks for purchasing this set of wall crossword game tiles!

Care of your tiles:

- These tiles are quite robust, but we would recommend avoiding dropping them.
- Try to avoid getting fingerprints on your wall tiles if you can. Black acrylic is the worst for this, and white is the best. Black tiles are coated with a protective wax for the highest protection against this.
- To clean the acrylic, use a lint free cloth. If possible use a dedicated plastic cleaner like Plexus, however isopropol alcohol also works. The critical part is to use the softest lint free cloth you can find as acrylic scratches easily. Don't use a paper towel or tissue.
- If you do use isopropol alcohol, avoid getting this onto the wood surface as it will stain the wood coating.
- Do not hang above cots or beds, as they may fall off and leave small parts. (Or a dent in the person it drops onto at 3AM).

Installation:

- Using the suggested layout and the size on the suggested layout, work out how it will fit into the area you have planned. If it doesn't fit or you don't like the layout, you may need to come up with a new layout - we include enough tiles to allow any layout to be created with the chosen names. This might require some thought and trial and error!
- Once you've determined the layout, place the first tile. Pick a tile on one edge of the layout. You can work out how far in to place it - each tile (or empty tile space) is 10cm square including the gap.
- For each tile, we recommend two strips of blu tac on the back of each side of the tile, approximately 1cm in from the edge. To make a strip, tear off a small piece of blu-tac, and roll it out on a hard surface into a long worm shape, approximately 5cm long. We recommend the sides rather than the top and the bottom of the tile.
- When placing the first tile, get this as level as you can - it's the template for the others. Use a spirit level if you have it, or you can actually use a spirit level app for your phone.
- Place the supplied acrylic template over the first tile. For best results for the first few tiles, place it such that it is horizontal, with the first tile occupying the top middle hole. After the first few are in place, any template layout works.
- Prepare and place the other tiles using the template and your chosen layout. Continue moving the template to allow you to place more tiles; ensure the template goes over at least one already installed tile.
- You will have extra tiles - keep them for future use if you expand or change the layout in future. Also keep the acrylic template to assist with this.
- If you're really sure you want the tiles on the wall, you can use double sided tape, or even silicon to bind them to the wall. This makes the installation permanent, however.

Removal

As they are just installed with blu tac, pull gently on the sides of the tiles to remove them from the wall. Clean up the blu-tac from the wall once they're free, and also from the back of the tile.
