Policy Statement:

- I have directly benefited from Netball NSW's 'elite player pathway programs' and as such I have a keen insight on the important role Netball NSW plays in providing elite athletes with a solid governance framework that proactively identifies and fosters the player's skills.
- I recognise the importance of developing holistic 'identification pathway programs' for the stars of tomorrow. For example ensuring support systems around the athlete (i.e. parents etc.) are also highlighted within existing Netball NSW programs.
- As an Aboriginal woman I would like to establish 'identification pathway programs' that proactively identifies and supports emerging Aboriginal netballers as I know from personal experience this is a program gap across all state and territory netball associations. I believe Netball NSW has the ability to be a leader in this space.
- Having been involved as a player across different netball associations I have experience and knowledge on the various programs in place across associations that promote the benefits of women playing sport. As such I know what has worked and also the areas needing improvement and development, including outreach programs in regional centres, and opportunities to partner with community based minority groups and national sporting bodies.
