

Dawn Naree Schaffer

Opening remarks

We want to be here today....

...and yet we don't!

We had to be here – to show our love, our admiration, our appreciation for an amazing woman who would never give up and never give in! //

But we wish the story had a different ending... one where Dawn lived well for many years to come! /

...but that is not the real world...

...and so we gather today to do three things...

Grieve. I'm sure there's been a lot of that already, but today will be a bit of a focal point for grief. And although in our culture we'd rather party than grieve... grief is actually really important... it is an acknowledgement of the pain we feel at the separation of death – the finality of death. Please don't be brave or strong! Grief is best expressed than denied! In Ron's words, Dawn was an absolute gem; so of course, we grieve her death!

Second – to give thanks. To give thanks to God that this wonderful woman was part of our lives... to give thanks for the inspiring way she faced the last 7 years... to give thanks for her love, her compassion, her generosity, her determination, her humour, her friendships... for her guidance and wisdom as mother and grandmother... We're here to express our gratitude for the way she touched our lives!

And third, we're here to find some hope. To find strength for the days ahead. To find comfort in sorrow. To find help for the ache we feel in our hearts... and I hope to be able to share with you where such hope and comfort and strength can be found. /

But we begin with a hymn which points us to where some of that hope is to be found – when Jesus Christ is our vision...!
