

MARMONT ILLUSTRIOUS COPPER

"My inspiration is to create a hidden oasis in the middle of a very attractive urban area in the Eastern suburbs. When you have views of Sydney Harbour, it's not often you can achieve a beautiful, wide open-plan living space that, together with the main bedroom, shares that Northerly aspect."

Brian Meyerson CEO and Architect MHN Design Union

Contemporary in both design and finish, Marmont's copper panelled exteriors and terrazzo lobbies are just two examples of, architect, Brian Meyerson's carefully crafted vision. His luxurious use of space allows for only two residences on each level. A secure garage provides level access to the building via a street-level driveway and each apartment has an allocation of car spaces and private storage.

MARMONT CULTIVATED CALM

With engineered timber oak floorboards underfoot and bespoke joinery throughout, Marmont's high degree of finish can be felt in every single room. Master bedrooms, coupled with elegantly-appointed ensuites, open up to secluded terraces by way of commercial-grade sliding doors.

Air Flow

The topography of Marmont's site captures all the best elements of Sydney's subtropical climate. The land, structure and trees on the south side offer protection from the cold south-westerly winds in winter and the elevated position to the north captures the north-easterly sea breezes in the summer.

Winter shelter from

MARMONT PERFECTLY FORMED

"Being in the heart of Double Bay we wanted to ensure the Marmont interiors reflect the beauty of the location with the selection of timeless materials used in a contemporary manner."

Jo Lawless

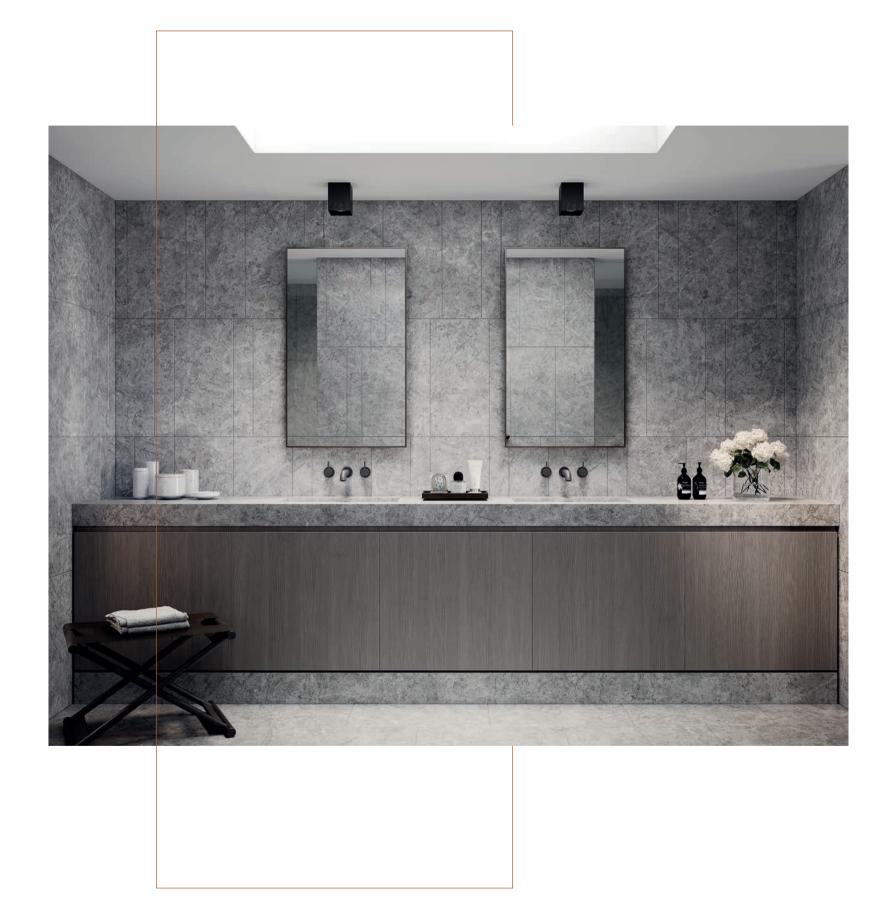

Director and Interior Designer Lawless & Meyerson

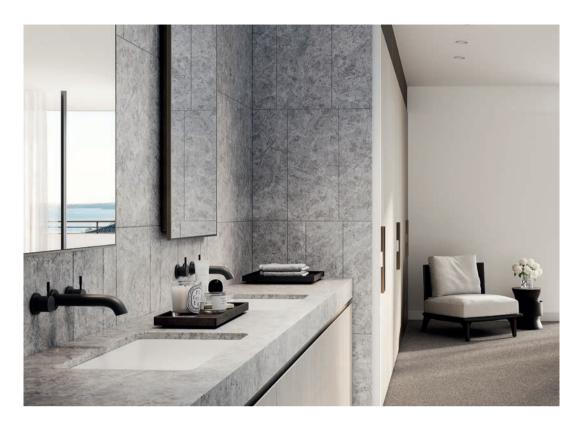

A well-appointed kitchen is the centrepiece of any modern home, and ours are defined by a central white marble block, matte gunmetal tapware and sleek Miele appliances – perfect for eating in or entertaining. Natural stone benchtops and splashbacks are kept uncluttered and streamline with an abundance of overhead and under-bench storage. Select apartments include a butler's pantry.

MARMONT

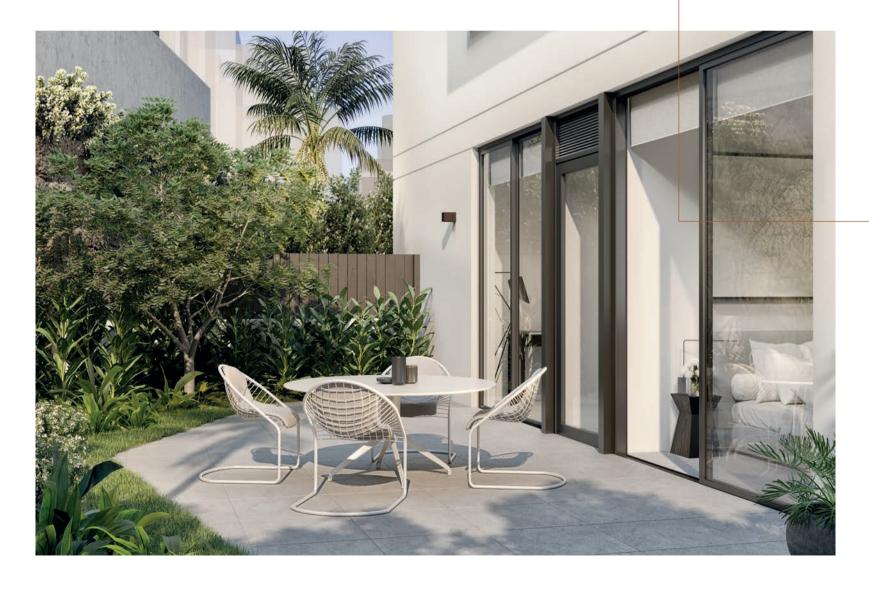

Sleek and modern, these elegantly appointed bathrooms feature polished natural stone, twin basins and mirrors, and matte gunmetal tapware. Full height glass pivot doors esconse generously-sized shower and toilet spaces.

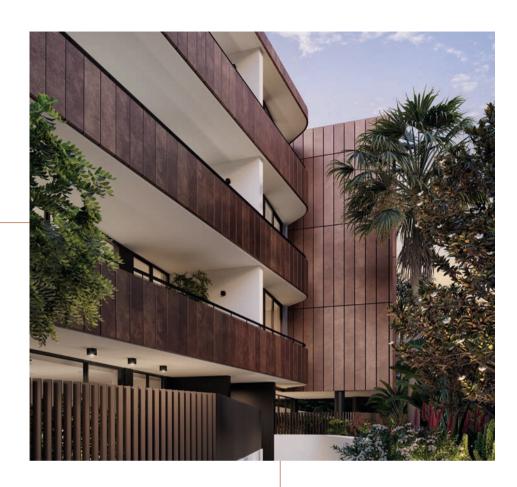

MARMONT OPEN UP TO STYLE

"Each private terrace has been designed to encapsulate the natural surrounds and frame beautiful Sydney views and outlooks. The gardens provide a relaxed and secluded setting, away from the hustle and bustle. Quality materials and finishes complement the planting scheme, which comes alive at night through carefully selected garden lighting."

Anthony Wyer

Managing Director and Landscape Architect Wyer & Co

Expansive living spaces spill out onto private gardens and terraces, created by award-winning landscape architects, Wyer & Co. Ground floor residences enjoy north facing gardens with leafy foliage. First floor residences offer secluded side terraces off the bedrooms. Second floor residences have large rear terraces with a dramatic backdrop of exposed natural rock face. And the penthouses take in views over Double Bay and across Sydney Harbour to North Head.

MARMONT SEASONAL ADVANTAGE

Sunlight

All of Marmont's north-facing living spaces capture the warm northerly sun during winter while the overhanging balconies and awnings shade out the harsh sun during summer. And with only two residences on each level there's ample natural light to fill the apartments year round.
