Talent Galore at Perth Royal Food Awards Opening

The Royal Agricultural Society of Western Australia has begun the Food Award season with a serious bang, holding its annual Opening on the front lawn of the Channel Nine Studios where invited guests enjoyed an award-winning grazing table breakfast with past winners and 2018 entrants.

The awards inspired breakfast showcased a variety of 2017 Perth Royal Food Award Winning products, including decadent cheese from Ha-vy Cheese, pastries (that includes amazing donuts) from Mt Claremont Village Bakery, dairy goods from Banister Downs and sweet treats from MJ Creations, and all paired with a glorious morning coffee.

Featuring live Channel 9 segments that were broadcast during The Today Show, guests watched on as local boys Brewhouse Beer talked all things beer, Margaret River Chocolate Company featured some of its finest chocolate truffles, while Guy Jeffreys, WA Good Food Guide 'Chef of the Year' for 2017 seared a prime piece of steak and a delicious cut of pork to ring in the new Branded Meat Awards.

The Perth Royal Food Awards celebrates the best of Western Australian produce and talent. With 2018 showcasing a variety of new competitions to cater to a broader audience of entrants and consumers, including Pantry Awards, Small Good Awards, Branded Meat Awards and Cider Awards.

*The Perth Royal Food Awards Opening took place at 7am, 14 June 2018 at the Channel Nine Studios (front lawn) at 253 St Georges Terrace, Perth.
