Presentations, Workshops, Discussions, Networking, Tools and Processes

Presentations

Empowering young children and families in the outdoors

#GetLifelongReady: getting people in their 30's to 60's into the outdoors

Snapshots of organisations that are enabling participation across different stages

Communication: across the social demographic divides

Action: how to go from ideas, to intentions, to implementation

Who Should Come?

Clubs; State Recreation Organisations; Playgroups; Land and Water Managers; Health Professionals; Educators; Commercial Providers; Policy Makers; Campsite Managers; Participants; Activity Providers; Parents; Recreation Officers, Event Organisers ...

Why Should You Come?

To gain insight into current trends, issues and opportunities

To learn how to encourage people to participate across their lifespan

To understand the evolving needs, capacities, interests and challenges of participants

To gain knowledge and tools to help people 'Live Life Outdoors'

To develop targeted programming to better connect people with the outdoors

You might find a new market, think of a business case for more inclusive programming, meet like-minded colleagues to share ideas, or just be inspired to seize an opportunity!
