

THE GOLDEN TIME MACHINE

I was in my bed, sweating. I didn't know why I was sweating, it was 11 degrees today, so I got up and I went to get a glass of water. When I saw my hallway, it was longer than usual... I went down the hallway and it got longer and longer... When I came to the end, I found a door and it had a code lock on it. So I looked for the code.

30 minutes later...

So I finally found the code, it was on a sheet of paper. The code was 36912. I entered the code and the door opened. A cloud of mist blocked my vision. When the mist cleared, I had a look. The room was all white and then I saw a huge golden Time Machine. I went over and had a look and then a professor jumped out and scared me. "AHH!" I said in a loud voice, as it echoed through the room. I asked the professor if I could go back in time. He said, "You may want to but if you don't come back in time you will be stuck there." I said ok... I changed my mind. I wanted to go to the future.

14 years ahead...

When I got to the future, I felt a bit sick because the ride was a bit rough but the first thing I saw was people riding on hover boards. I was amazed. I found a hover board, I hopped on, it started flying up, and I didn't know how to get down. Then I started learning the controls. After I went to go get something to eat. I went to Peter's Pizza Palace. It was delicious. I looked at the time; I only had one more hour here.

I started looking around and I saw a waterpark. I decided to go to the water park. It was really fun! I looked at the time again and I only had ten minutes left. I headed back to the time machine. I set the year and I pressed go. In an instant I was back home.

I got to sleep. I had the funniest time of my life. I will definitely be going back there.

The next week...

I went back to the future and, when I got there, everything was gone. I was confused. Someone came up to me and said you need to save us. I realised it was me. I am not from the future. That's why everything is gone. I travelled back home and told the professor. He said, "Take these clothes and put them on. I put them on and went to the future, but before I could get there everything was gone. I didn't know what to do. I thought, "What if I built a machine that makes anything?" So I started building.

2 days later...

When I had finished I pressed build and it worked, but it only worked for a limited amount of time - and that was 10 minutes. So I started to build multiples. It took a long time but I got it done. I pressed go and the future started to rebuild! I saw all the people come back. They all thanked me. When they left I told the professor I saved the future. He was so happy. I went back to the bed. I told my mum what happened but she said "It's all a dream!" "Is it?" I thought. I told my mum I would show her. I got up and went to my mum's room. I got her up and took her. I introduced her to the professor. I took my mum into the time machine and I pressed go and I showed her the future. She loved it. Then I told her how I saved the future. When we went back, I went back to bed and so did my mum.

The next day...

In the morning, I woke up and went to the professor but he wasn't there. He left a note saying, "I have adventured out to the middle of nowhere". He said he needed help. What he had left me was rusty old armour and a sword. I started my adventure.

I went out to look in the forests but he wasn't there. But I did find a quarter of a piece of paper that looked like it had a map on it. I went to the next location, it was the Crystal Caverns but he wasn't there. Before I left, I had a look to see if there was a small bit of a map. I found a part, it was the middle part. I thought, "Where should I go next?" I went to the deepest darkest jungliest, jungle but nothing was there, not even a part of the map. I searched there for hours nonstop.

I thought of a different location, it was the terrific treehouse. There was no professor there but there was a piece of paper, it was the bottom left corner of the map. I was out of locations but then I found a note and it said go to the top of the mountain, slay a dragon and you will find a piece of the map. I went to the top of the mountain, and there stood a giant fire-breathing dragon! I was startled. I tried to stab the dragon but it moved. I ducked under its attack and sliced its belly in half. There lay a dead dragon. I looked behind the dragon and there was a piece of paper, it connected all the pieces, but then I thought, "Why would this map be so small?" However, I looked at the map and started my next adventure to find the professor.

A month later...

When I finished I had found the professor and I successfully had him back but then he fell over and broke his leg so I had to carry him home. I had saved the professor!

The end.
