

SOUNDBYTES FOR YOUR SPIRIT

You listen so intently to me
You take me at my word
You're waiting for direction from me
My whispers are truly heard

Always looking to conspire and join forces
And manifest the vibration I feel
You are a neutral field of energy
And with miracles you heal

All the parts of us that painfully believe
That we are powerless, hopeless, mundane
You teach us to desire, believe, align...
To call our power back again.

Thank you for listening, infinite one
Thank you for meeting me at my call
Thank you for the awe of consciousness
Which loving dissolves all the walls

Of separation between Self and Source
That keep us trapped in the biggest lie
Because we are love, we are vast, we are magnificence
We are limitless, you and I.

So don't dwell on all that hasn't come or happened yet
Focus instead on where you're going
Align your focus, your desire, your commitment
And imagine as if you were throwing

All your fears, doubts and worn out stories
Into a fire of absolute trust
Because now is your time to blossom, sweet soul
You must, you must, you must.

IT'S TIME TO BLOSSOM, YOU MUST

(a poem to the universe)
