

FINDING PASSION, POWER AND PURPOSE

Grading	Exceptional (4 points)	Competent (3 points)	Needs Improvement (2)	Unsatisfactory (1 point)	Score
Why Purpose?	Aware that I need to find out what my life purpose is; I want to find fulfilment and meaning and know who I am at all times.	Often aware that I need to find out what my life purpose is; I want to find fulfilment and meaning and will look at who I am when I get time.	Sometimes occurs to me that it would be a good idea to find more meaning in life, not sure how to do that yet.	Life is what it is, no point trying to make it mean anything more. I know who I am and can't change that.
Finding Purpose	Always look within and know exactly what questions I need to ask to find my purpose so that I know who I want to be and what I want to do.	Often look within and then know what questions I need to ask to find my purpose. Need to work more on who I want to be and what I want to do to gain real clarity.	Sometimes look within but not sure what questions I need to ask to find my purpose. Have a vague idea what I want to do.	Rarely look within, cant see the point. I have enough trouble dealing with what life dishes up. No point thinking about what I want.
Personal Mission	Clear on my personal mission: I know what I want to do, who I want to help, what the result is and what value I create.	Not quite clear on my personal mission: know what I want to do and who I want to help, not clear on the result or what value I create.	My personal mission is vague: not sure what I want to do and who I want to help, no idea about results or value.	No personal mission, other than survival through another day. Just taking each day as it comes.
Strategy	My vision is clear and I have developed a strategy for it's achievement: I know who I need to become; I have set goals and written them down and made plans for my success.	My vision is almost clear and I am developing a strategy for it's achievement as I go: I know who I need to become; I have set goals and written them down but have no plans for my success yet.	My vision needs some clarity before I can develop a strategy for it's achievement: I am not sure who I need to become; have vague goals and no written plans.	I need a long term vision but can seem to find the time or the confidence to allow myself to have one. No written goals or plans.
Actions	With clarity of purpose I have made lists of the actions and changes I need to take to bring my life in alignment with that.	As I am getting clearer on my purpose I am becoming aware of the actions and changes I need to take to achieve what I want.	I need to get more clarity before I know what actions I need to take and what changes I need to make.	The only action I need to take at this point is allow some time to find some purpose in my life.
Passion Power Purpose	I have a clear understanding of the relationship between passion, power and purpose, providing me with meaning, direction and significance.	I am mostly clear on the relationship between passion, power and purpose, so meaning, direction and significance often appear in my life.	Sometimes I am clear on the relationship between passion, power and purpose, so I sometimes have meaning, direction and significance.	Not clear on the relationship between passion, power and purpose so rarely feel like there is any meaning in my life.
