These ladies are looking forward to sharing with you, in this intimate gathering, the secrets to their success, that they have never shared before.

It will be a raw and honest conversation about how these women have and are growing their brand, growing themselves and above all how they are helping others.

What they will share...

- How to catapult your individual credibility within the industry.
- What is the one thing they would do better if they had a second chance.
- What secrets previous award winners used to grow their brand.
- What strategies opened doors that were previously closed.
- What was the one thing that changed their way of thinking within themselves and their brand.
- What attracts potential franchise partners and clients to their brand.
