TINA TOWER

Begin Bright

Starting her first business at the age of 20, Tina Tower is now the CEO of Begin Bright Early Learning & Primary Tutoring Centres, a successful franchise business. Listen to Tina talk about how it took “10 years to an overnight success” and how she balances her hectic schedule with her personal life, including being the mother of two boys.

Tina was the 2012 winner of the My Business Awards for Women in Business and the Telstra Australian Young Business Woman of the Year in 2014. In 2012, Begin Bright won the National Overall Winner for Commitment to Excellence and in 2013 took out the Australian Small Business Champion Awards for Educational Services.

Tina also works with The Hunger Project and is determined to see the end of chronic hunger in her lifetime. Begin Bright is passionate about education across the world and is building a school in Laos with the Room To Read charity in 2016.
