2016

Issue 20 - July

Term 3: Monday 20th July- Friday 23rd September

Good, better, best!

In 'The Outliers' by Malcolm Gladwell, he sites research about the value of being part of a community in terms of health and longevity. '....to understand why someone was healthy, the medical establishment had to look beyond the individual no-one was used to thinking about health in terms of the community.....the mysterious and magical benefits of people stopping to talk to one another on the street'.

Belonging to our centre provides you with the benefits of community as indicated by the results from the Customer Perception Survey 2015/2016. Here, you have the opportunity to develop support networks, link to community resources, develop knowledge, skills and confidence and increase your participation in community. See our wordcloud of results.
