

THLS601 Eucharist Professional Learning Seminar

Giovanni Portelli

The Eucharist is the chief Christian ritual, celebrated in response to Christ's command to: "Do this in remembrance of me".

THLS601 explores the biblical and anthropological roots of the Eucharist and traces the development of its major theological themes of: participation in the Paschal Mystery, sacrifice, presence, communion, blessing, and devotion, and the historical evolution of the Eucharist across a range of Christian traditions and time-periods. Centred on the Eucharist in the Roman Catholic tradition, this unit pays close attention to key ecclesiastical legislation regarding its celebration, articulating a theology of the rite drawn from the liturgy itself. THLS601 will navigate the complex historical evolution, liturgical diversity, and theological richness of the sacrament of the Eucharist, exploring why its proper ritual celebration today is central to the identity and mission of the Catholic Church.

ADVANCE YOUR KNOWLEDGE

Clergy, seminarians, teachers, liturgists, pastoral associates, parishioners and all who have an interest in the Eucharist are welcome to register for this professional learning seminar (not for academic credit with no assessments) which is also being offered as a postgraduate unit (for academic credit or audit). THLS601 Eucharist (Semester 2 Intensive Unit: August 7 & 8, 28 & 29 2021)

Unit Description: The Eucharist is the central Christian ritual celebrated in response to Christ's command to: "Do this in remembrance of me". The basic shape of the Eucharistic celebration has remained unchanged throughout history despite the evolution of liturgical diversity in different cultural contexts, languages, and ecclesial circumstances. This unit studies the Eucharist as an act of thanksgiving and praise, "a sacrificial memorial of Christ and his body, and the presence of Christ by the power of his word and of his Spirit." (CCC#1358). The unit will explore the anthropological and biblical roots of the Eucharist and will trace its major theological themes including Eucharist as participation in the Paschal Mystery, and as sacrifice, presence, communion, blessing and devotion. Studying the liturgical sources and practices of the Church, this unit explores the historical and theological evolution of the Eucharist in a range of Christian traditions and time-periods. It attends especially to the current form of the rite in the Roman Catholic tradition, paying attention to key ecclesiastical legislation pertaining to the celebration of the Eucharist and articulating a theology of the rite drawing on the liturgy itself. This unit aims to provide students with an appreciation of the complex historical evolution, liturgical diversity and theological richness of the sacrament of the Eucharist, in order to enhance their understanding of why its proper ritual celebration today is central to the identity and mission of the Catholic Church.

Professional learners may choose 8 of the 16 available sessions to attend.
