Establishing Paediatric Nursing Research Priorities: Please contribute!!!

As you all know, we are conducting a research study to identify priorities for paediatric nursing research. Please take about 15 minutes to complete a short questionnaire to describe what YOU think is a priority for paediatric nursing research. Participation is completely voluntary, and your answers will be anonymous.

If you would like to participate, please click on the link for the survey and additional information:

Lime Survey link: <https://prodsurvey.rcs.griffith.edu.au/prodls200/index.php/271741?lang=en>

This project has been granted ethics approval by Griffith University, Human Research Ethics Committee (2019/496) and Children's Health Queensland Hospital and Health Service Human Research Ethics Committee (LNR/19/QCHQ/55019).

You can read more about this project on our PATTERN project page:

Our first PATTERN collaborative paper:

Our first PATTERN-dedicated paper, has now been released: "Paediatric nursing research in Australia: A descriptive survey" in Collegian.

Read more here: https://www.collegianjournal.com/article/S1322-7696\(19\)30031-9/fulltext30031-9/fulltext)

Congratulations to the entire authorship group and as we said in the paper "Paediatric nursing research involves diverse roles, skills, experience and clinical foci. This study represents a first step toward developing a programmatic approach to paediatric nursing research in Australia."

Events

Our final 2019 PATTERN event!

Please come and be a part of our final meeting for 2019, our 2019 PATTERN celebration!

When: Tuesday 3rd December, 3pm

Where: Room 401/2 Centre for Children's Health Research (62 Graham St, South Brisbane)

followed by a walk across the road to the Plough Inn.

What: Dr Natalie Bradford (pictured) will be sharing her experience of setting a successful paediatric nursing research career, and we can help her celebrate her recent NHMRC Investigator Grant! Plus, we'll take the time to celebrate all our 2019 accomplishments, anywhere from surviving to thriving.

If you can't join in person then: Join Zoom Meeting

Congratulations

We are so proud of our PATTERN colleague, Tricia Kleidon, for being awarded the Janet Pettit Scholar in Neonatal and Pediatric Vascular Access by the Association of Vascular Access (AVA), at the recent AVA Scientific Meeting in Las Vegas! Awesome achievement!

A massive congratulations to Jessica Schults and team, for being awarded the 2019 Australian College of Critical Care Nurses Seeding Grant for her project "Developing appropriateness criteria for endotracheal suction interventions for mechanically ventilated children"

There have been a flurry of national and international presentations by our PATTERN members, including representation at the World Congress of Intensive Care, the Society of Paediatric Anaesthetists in Australia and New Zealand, the College of Emergency Nurses Australasia, the Association for Vascular Access, and many others. Great to see our research being disseminated.

- Congratulations to Ms Kelly Foster become a member of the Clinician Collaborative of the Queensland Child and Youth Clinical Network (QCYCN).

Seminars and Workshops

Seminars

- Planning for success: Project Management for Clinical Research

The Metro North Hospital and Health Service invites you to the Advanced Topics in clinical Research education seminar. This session is designed for aspiring early and mid-career clinical researchers wanting to develop skills in clinical research project management. Project management principles, frameworks and considerations to plan for successful clinical research projects.

Topics covered will include:

- Principles of project management in the context of clinical research
- Frameworks for managing research projects; program logic models, Gantt charts
- How to manage research project budget
- Project administration and reporting
- Case studies of exemplary clinical research project.

Date: Tuesday 29 October, 12.30 pm–2.00 pm

Where: RBWH Education Centre, Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital

Please register by Thursday 24 October.

For more information, please click the link: <https://metronorth.health.qld.gov.au/research/atcr-1019>

- 2019 International Indigenous Nursing Research Summit

This summit will bring together Indigenous nurse researchers and academics, community partners and organisations from around the globe to discuss building global capacity for meaningful Indigenous peoples around the world.

When: Wed 11th–Fri 13th December 2019,

9.00AM –5.00PM

Where: J131 Auditorium, Building J, USQ Ipswich

Workshops

- Introduction to Good Clinical Practice (GCP)

Key points:

- All staff and students from CHQ and CCHR are invited to attend
- This session will provide an overview of ICHGCP including its origins and progression from its role in pharmaceutical/ device trials run by industry to the broader context of clinical research in Australia. The main components of GCP guidelines, and related documents, will be described as well as options for GCP certification.
- Please note, this session does not qualify as GCP certification.

Date: Wednesday 6th November

Time: 10-12pm

Where: Seminar Room on Level 5, Centre for Children's Health Research

Please RSVP by contacting Jeanne.Marshall@health.qld.gov.au

- Early Career Research Development Workshop

Tuesday 19 November, 8.00am–4.00 pm

Griffith University Gold Coast Campus, Room G16_1.12

The School of School of Nursing and Midwifery, Griffith University Gold Coast campus are holding an inaugural workshop to bring together early career researchers in Nursing, Midwifery and Health. This is an opportunity to discuss professional academic development and network with peers from across the health group. The focus will be on building a successful research career and developing research support.

Invited speakers will discuss strategies and realities of building a research career, grant writing for maximum impact, and will share thoughts about their own research journeys. An expert panel will also be convened for a Q&A session. This workshop aims to bring together postdoctoral early career researchers from the health group to discuss ideas and challenges with peers in an informal context. Early registration is encouraged as places are limited and expected to fill quickly.

Please register by Friday 15 November (https://www.stickytickets.com.au/qp-8o9gstk-rjuyy4v7eqg/ecr_postdoctoral_workshop.aspx).

Conferences

- Hui (Grace) Xu, Kynoch K, Tuckett A, Eley R. Interventions to reduce ED occupational stress: a systematic review. 36th Australasian College for Emergency Medicine Annual Scientific Meeting, Hobart, Australia. Poster presentation.

Other Opportunities

- A new book from Sigma, on Nursing-led savings

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia guide to cost-saving solutions, bedside financial stewardship, and improved efficiency in care-delivery systems

We all know that nurses are critical to providing safe, quality care to patients. As healthcare costs increase, however, the hospital workforce (including nurses) tends to be the first to be cut. A better solution is to encourage financial stewardship by focusing on reducing non-labor expenses.

In Nursing-Led Savings, five nurses from Children's Hospital of Philadelphia (CHOP) show organizational leaders at all levels how to develop and implement a robust, sustainable plan that eliminates waste and streamlines processes in everyday work.

Learn how you can encourage and employ an alternative strategy for cost reduction efforts in this effective, how-to guide!

- The national call for volunteers is now open!

Pint of Science will be back in Australia on 11-13 May, 2020. We're now looking for local city leaders and the awesome crew of people to fill specialist roles across the centralised national team. If you're interested in a challenge, and perhaps in learning something new, express your interest today in becoming a #PintAU volunteer!

You can find out more on specific roles we're looking to fill at www.pintofscience.com.au/roles

- HFCC 2020 program

20th Helping Families Change Conference (HFCC) is being held in Brisbane on 05-07 Feb 2020. Please click the link for more information: <https://helpingfamilieschange.org/program/>
