Introduction

Credentialing is different to other kinds of study you may have completed. It is not about attending lectures or tutorials or working on group projects and taking in new information. Instead, it is all about you packaging and mapping information that is uniquely yours – your skills, experience and knowledge.

Earning a Credential is a step-by-step process to identify and document your abilities and accomplishments, driven entirely by you.

FOUR STEPS TO EARNING A CREDENTIAL

Step 1. Choose your criteria

Step 2. Collect your evidence

Step 3. Write your reflective testimony

Step 4. Complete your assessment

This guide explains how to complete each step. You should also consider downloading the Credential Submission Planner (see the Resources section of this Credential's webpage) and mapping out your submission plan. This will provide you with the basic information you need to start developing your submission.

While the credentialing process may be unfamiliar to you, a quick read-through of this document will show you it is a similar process to preparing for a major presentation or a big job interview. It is about showcasing your strengths, reflecting on your achievements and documenting your expertise. Earning a Credential is, at its heart, a self-affirming process for clarifying and verifying the experiences, skills and knowledge that are uniquely yours.

Choose your criteria

Your Credential submission must address the relevant criteria. If you select either criteria 1 or 2, you are not required to select a second criterion. If you select criterion 3 you are required to select a second criterion from 4 or 5.

How you address the criteria will depend on the type of work you do and the environments in which you operate. It is best to choose the criteria that best allows you to showcase your strengths. To be successful, your submission will need to clearly demonstrate how your experience and achievements align to the relevant criteria.

You can address one of the following criterion:

- Criterion 1 You lead the successful planning, coordination and execution of large scale or complex collaborative projects
- Criterion 2 You take a leadership role in building cooperation within the organisation and with external partners, experts and stakeholders
- Criterion 3 You plan and guide strategic effort to identify collective purpose, goals and targets*

* If you choose criterion three, you must also choose one of the following criteria:

- Criterion 4 You recognise and overcome resistance and conflict that limits collaboration and strategic cooperation
- Criterion 5 You use complex influencing strategies to gain high level support (e.g. third party influence, lobbying, etc.)

Autonomy, influence and complexity

Along with satisfying the criteria, your submission will need to demonstrate the expected level of autonomy, influence and complexity of your skills and experience. Keep this in mind as you decide which projects or achievements you will include in your submission.

Autonomy

You work across organisations or professions to optimise collaboration and cooperation

Influence

You solicit input and build commitment to agreed strategic purpose

Complexity

You perform a range of complex activities using superior professional and technical skills and may review overall participation and collaborative outcomes

STEP 2

Collect your evidence

Evidence is the collection of documents you must provide to support the narrative of your reflective testimony.

Consider and select your evidence before writing your reflective testimony. It is recommended that you select 2 to 3 pieces of evidence.

You will be required to provide a description for each evidence file you submit. The assessors will read the description when referring to your evidence. You must include the following details:

- Evidence title
- Date
- Summary of evidence, including your contribution/role in relation to the evidence.

Types of information to consider providing:

- Participation in a large scale and/or very complex project or initiative
- Primary role coordinating or guiding of a major collaborative endeavour/ project/ team
- Management of strategic partnerships or cooperative arrangements
- Extended duration (e.g. over 3 years) performing effectively in a senior leadership role
- Leadership role gaining input and support from stakeholders or strategic partners
- Output achieved through personal efforts to successfully navigate industry politics or competing strategic interests
- High level vendor/supplier relationships
- Lobbying or influencing national or industry-level stakeholders or decision makers
- Promoting community engagement
- Managing members of a team -physical or virtual- through a team formation or change process
- Participation and collaboration in strategic alliances and collaborative initiatives
- Sharing or stimulating the means for ideas and information to be shared nationally across professional and industry boundaries

Remember

Consider how your role in the evidence you submit satisfies the criteria with the appropriate levels of autonomy, influence and complexity.

Handling sensitive information

Documents submitted must NOT infringe copyright and must NOT be confidential.

You can remove names from evidence documents, however, you will need to provide the following statement on the document 'For the purpose of confidentiality names have been removed.'

Where documents are not all your own work, you will need to explain your contribution within the testimony.

If the evidence relating to the project or initiative is confidential you may supply third party testimony as part of your evidence.

Third party testimony requirements

- The role of the third party in relation to you and to the project or initiative must be clearly described
- Please provide a link to an online profile e.g. LinkedIn and a phone number that we may use to verify the person's identity and relationship to you
- The person giving the third party testimony must use and agree to the criteria in the legal declaration provided for such testimony

3

Write your reflective testimony

A single piece of testimony will need to be written for all criteria and will also be assessed against how you demonstrate Autonomy, Influence and Complexity.

In order for the evidence to be considered during assessment, you must reference it from within your reflective testimony.

Your reflective testimony is the main component of your submission and is the key basis for assessment.

Your testimony must specifically refer to the parts within your evidence that demonstrate and satisfy the criteria and elements. You must cite those examples in your testimony.

Reflective testimony requirements

There are requirements that must be adhered to when writing your reflective testimony. Your reflective testimony must:

- Be written in first person and be within 500 to 1000 words
- Be clear, succinct, free from grammatical and spelling errors but not omit any relevant detail
- Include an introductory paragraph that explicitly states the criterion/criteria you have selected, your current role and the level of the role, and indicates how the capability for which you are being assessed is evidenced in your experience

Did you know?

Philosopher, psychologist and educational reformer John Dewey said "We do not learn from experience... we learn from reflecting on experience."

This reflection provides a lens through which to view your professional capabilities within your own specific professional context and critically evaluate how you approach your role. We have found this process of personal reflection provides insights that translate to a positive influence on how you perform in your role.

4

Complete your assessment

Once you have registered in a Credential you have eight weeks to submit your testimony and evidence for assessment.

The assessment process for this Credential has two stages.

Stage 1

Submit your reflective testimony, referencing the evidence you are providing. When you have submitted your testimony and evidence – this involves uploading all documentation online – all submitted material will be assessed in accordance with the relevant criteria and the autonomy, influence and complexity.

Stage 2

Once the assessment panel determines that your submission has met the criteria, you will be invited to attend an online video interview. The recorded interview will be reviewed by the assessment panel and, if your overall submission is successful, you will be awarded the Credential.

Use the checklist on the following page to ensure you are fully prepared to submit your documentation for assessment.

Preparing for your video interview

Your video interview is an opportunity for the assessors to clarify and confirm any of the details in your reflective testimony and evidence submission. The interview questions will focus on the content of your submission. You must have copies of both your evidence and testimony with you for the interview.

The video interview will be recorded and submitted to an assessment panel. The video recording will be stored and kept as part of the audit record of the assessment process.

Credential submission checklist

Use this checklist to track your progress in preparing your submission.

You should also consider completing a Credential Submission Planner to help consolidate your thoughts. You can download this document from the Resources section of the relevant Credential's webpage.

If you meet all requirements – address all relevant criteria and demonstrate appropriate autonomy, influence and complexity in your testimony; provide suitable evidence to support your testimony; complete all documentation in the appropriate formats; and pass your video interview – you will earn a Teamwork Advanced digital badge from DeakinDigital.
