

Introduction to Bosco Medical

Bosco Medical Australia Pty Ltd (Bosco) has been in business since 1984. In 2006 Jackson Allison Medical & Surgical Ltd (JAMS) purchased Bosco, an established Queensland medical device supply company. JAMS is a privately-owned New Zealand company that was established in 1981 and who have an established New Zealand distribution network and branches in Wellington, Christchurch along with the head office in Auckland.

Bosco shares a significant number of major agencies with JAMS and distributes throughout Australia. Bosco is based in Brisbane (Head Office) and has a sales teams in Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania with distributors in Western Australia, South Australia and Northern Territory.

Bosco is a preferred supplier to Queensland Health and NSW Health and holds numerous state supply contracts. Bosco also holds state tenders for ESU consumables, anaesthetic masks, oxygen masks, nasal cannulas, needle counters etc (anaesthetic and operating room consumables) in various other states / territories including NSW, Victoria and Northern Territory.

Our commitment is to continually source and supply quality, innovative, cost competitive medical and surgical products which meet the on-going demands of the healthcare industry.

Our dedicated experienced and knowledgeable staff will work with integrity, professionalism and sound industry knowledge to satisfy specific requirements.

List of Bosco Directors

Archibald Hamish Morrison Allison
Paul Arie Van Dorsten
Dal Sinclair Skirving